AIRPORT

Jim Wood

The Airport Manager is responsible for all aspects of management and operation of the airport. Some of the duties include compliance with federal, state and local regulations; oversee daily operations; ensure operation of all nav aids; issue NOTAMS; oversee construction activity; fuel corporate and general aviation aircraft; and perform grounds and snow removal operations.

BUILDING, GROUNDS & PARKS MAINTENANCE

Jeff Ludwig

This department has the responsibility of the daily maintenance, upkeep and special renovation projects in the Courthouse, Annex, Human Services Building, Education Center, USDA Service Center, Multi-Purpose Building, Fairgrounds, and the operating systems and surrounding grounds. The maintenance staff is responsible for the maintenance and development of the county parks system, its buildings, docks, boat landings, and grounds. It is also responsible for the maintenance and operation of the Perkinstown Winter Sports Area.

CHILD SUPPORT

Patricia Smith

Wisconsin law mandates that each county implement a child support and paternity establishment program. The State has a contract with each County Board to include the following: paternity establishment, investigation, establishment of child and medical support obligations, location of absent parents, financial assessment of the absent parent's ability to provide support, monitoring payment activities, processing case flow and enforcing support obligations, including maintenance, provided that a court of competent jurisdiction has entered such an order and that minor children are involved. The county agency also has certain administrative responsibilities. Full knowledge and understanding of Wisconsin's statutes and federal regulations affecting child support are essential.

CIRCUIT COURT

Honorable Ann Knox-Bauer

Circuit Court Judges are elected on a nonpartisan basis for a six-year term at the April election. The term of office begins in August following the election. The circuit court has original jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters. The judge is responsible for estates, wills for safekeeping, survivorships, guardianships, trusts, mental commitment hearings, juvenile court referrals and related juvenile matters. Appointed by the chief judge of the 9th Judicial District, Family Court Commissioner Bonnie Wachsmuth performs quasi-judicial duties and directs the family court counseling services, working under the direction of the circuit court judge. Typical duties are conducting stipulated divorce hearings; hearings on temporary orders in divorce; enforcement of physical placement hearings; child support hearings; revision of support, placement and custody hearings; and injunction hearings. The FCC also facilitates the appointment of mediators and the mediation process that is required in any case where placement or custody of a minor child is contested.

CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

Margaret M. Gebauer

The Clerk of Circuit Court is elected every four years at a November election. The responsibilities of the clerk are keeping a record of all civil and criminal actions filed in court, including all citations issued for traffic and ordinance violations. The Clerk acts as a custodian of all trust funds deposited as a result of court action, and collects all fines, forfeitures and court costs as ordered by the court. The Clerk maintains minute sheets and exhibits which are entered for each court proceeding in open court. The jury selection process and records are maintained by the Clerk of Circuit Court. The office also processes passport applications, including passport photos.

COMMISSION ON AGING

Diane Niggemann

The Commission on Aging is responsible for administering programs for older adults, age 60 years or older. These services include the congregate and home delivered meal programs, senior centers, mini-bus and volunteer driver program. Other programs include senior exercise, nail care, information and assistance, Benefit Specialist, family caregiver support and emergency response systems.

CORPORATION COUNSEL

Attys. Kristy Tlusty/Ken Schmiede

The Corporation Counsel is appointed by the County Board of Supervisors to represent the county, its departments and its officers in all legal matters of civil litigation, serves as County Board Parliamentarian, provides interpretations of the powers and duties of the board and provides legal opinions to the County Board and County departments. Corporation Counsel drafts resolutions and ordinances on matters arising before the County Board, and revises Taylor County Code. As a legal advisor and county attorney, it is the duty of this office to advise and represent various county departments on matters concerning public welfare, mental health, children in need of protection or services, protective placements, guardianship proceedings, collections, foreclosures of tax delinquent property, title searches, acquisition of lands, transfer sales or exchanges and bankruptcies.

COUNTY BOARD

Jim Metz

The County Board Chair is a statutory officer elected for two-year terms in April of every even numbered year by the members of the County Board. The Chair shall countersign all ordinances, preside at meetings, and appoint members to standing committees. The Chair also appoints candidates for any county board supervisor vacancy, or persons to special committees, subject to confirmation by the County Board. This office is responsible for County Board functions such as preparing materials for County Board meetings, transcribing minutes, and updating the Taylor County Code.

COUNTY CLERK
Bruce P. Strama

The County Clerk, elected every four years, acts as clerk of the County Board of Supervisors and maintains a public file of all standing committees. The County Clerk, along with Accountant Larry Brandl, prepares the annual budget as directed by the Finance Committee; sets the county tax rate and apportionment; certifies the county tax rate to the municipal clerks for collection; keeps the general books of account and presents all claims made against the county to the County Board or its authorized committees. The County Clerk is the Chief Election Official who administers all county, state, and federal elections. The County Clerk issues marriage licenses, cutting permits, dog license material, tax certificates, delinquent tax notices and hunting and fishing licenses as prescribed by the DNR. Payroll/Benefits Administrator Jacky Peterson, administers the County payroll and is responsible for the health, dental, disability, life insurance, worker's compensation, and Wisconsin Retirement System eligibility.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY
Karl Kelz

The District Attorney is elected every four years and prosecutes all violations of state laws, which occur in Taylor County, such as murder, robbery, rape, and other offenses and also prosecutes violations of county ordinances such as reckless driving, speeding, illegal passing and other types of motor vehicle violations. The Victim/Witness Program aids those individuals who have either been the victim of a crime, or who have witnessed a crime and have been called to testify in court. Victim/Witness Coordinator LeeAnn Raab keeps the victims informed of the status of criminal proceedings, and elicits the victim's input into sentencing or plea negotiations. Assistance is also given to those requesting help with Crime Victim Compensation Applications or Victim Impact Statements.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Craig Amundson

This department develops the countywide Emergency Operations Plan, conducts preparedness exercises and assists in disaster situations. Other duties include emergency plans for schools, industries, medical facilities, and governmental agencies. The Department manages the mandated "Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act," oversees the functions of the Local Emergency Planning Committee and maintains the county's hazardous materials inventories. This department coordinates all local emergency response agencies, which helps to mitigate the severity of disasters. The department writes grants and obtains equipment to help other agencies and departments be prepared for any incident, natural or man-made. The department arranges for training provided through local, state and federal training facilities.

EXTENSION (UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN)

Peggy Nordgren, Family Living Agent, provides research-based information and educational programs to help families and communities in the areas of parenting, child care, food safety, nutrition, financial management, family caregiving and consumer issues. Brenda Herrell and Karen Thell, Wisconsin Nutrition Education Program, provide information on low cost, nutritious meals and snacks to families and individuals with limited resources. Michelle Grimm, 4-H/Youth Development Agent, provides learning opportunities for youth ages 5 to 19; resources and expertise are available to adult volunteers, schools, youth groups, faith communities and families. Arlen Albrecht, Community Resource Development Agent, works with business and industry groups by providing counseling and feasibility study assistance, provides environmental programs dealing with managing society's waste and protecting groundwater quality and works with local government issues. Sandra Stuttgen, Agriculture Agent, provides education and information on agriculture and agri-business issues effecting people in Taylor County. UW-Extension also provides WisLine teleconferencing and satellite videoconference down link to access the UW research base.

FORESTRY & RECREATION

Bradford Ruesch

The department is responsible for all aspects of management and operation of the county forest, to include timber sales, special use permits, land acquisition, wildlife habitat, forest roads and recreational uses. Other aspects included are the operation and maintenance of the county snowmobile and ATV trail systems and areas.

HEALTH

Patricia Krug

Our agency is the local public health department. The agency provides communicable disease investigations for diagnosed and suspected diseases, health screenings, immunizations, WIC, Prenatal Care Coordination, Fluoride Varnish Program, oral dietary fluoride supplements, Cribs for Kids, child passenger safety checks, private water supply testing for households with pregnant women or children up to the age of 5, jail health, lead poisoning investigation and testing, human health hazard investigations, emergency preparedness education and other educational activities. We are the licensing agent for retail food establishments, lodging, recreation, food (restaurants and temporary/mobile food stands) and manufactured home communities. See our information at <http://www.co.taylor.wi.us/departments/health/health.html>.

HIGHWAY

Jess Sackmann

The Highway Commissioner is the administrator of the Highway Department and has charge of the construction and maintenance of highways under the direction of the Highway Committee. Duties include the responsibility for the necessary engineering studies, surveys, plans and cost estimates for highway construction; care and maintenance of county road equipment and supplies; recording all expenditures; plan and supervise highway maintenance and construction work on the county trunk highway system; and provide the general maintenance of the state highways.

The Human Resources Manager coordinates county recruitment with department heads, reviews all recommendations for disciplinary action or discharge, administers the collective bargaining process and agreements, maintains personnel and medical files on all employees, administers the county's employee benefit programs, serves as the county's Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Program Officer, and assists the Personnel Committee with their meetings and actions. Other duties include administering the County's insurance program, and overseeing central purchasing, telephone and mailing systems.

HUMAN SERVICES

Susan Hady

The Taylor County Human Services Department promotes and encourages the well-being, safety, independence, and self-sufficiency of all Taylor County individuals and families through the provision of supportive services. As a public agency and department within county government, the Taylor County Human Services Department operates under a Human Services Board which is appointed by the Taylor County Board of Supervisors. Administrative oversight is also provided by a number of state departments. Agency funding comes from a variety of sources including federal, state, and county revenue as well as client fees. Services provided or purchased by the Taylor County Human Services Department are coordinated through one of five units including: Developmental Disabilities, Long-Term Support/ Agency Intake, Economic Support, Children and Family Services, and Clinical Services which encompasses mental health, and alcohol and other drug abuse services.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Melissa Seavers

The IT Department is committed to provide and support information technology in an effective, accurate and timely manner that meets the needs of Taylor County Departments, enabling them to better serve customers, both internal and external. County agencies and equipment are connected by a local and wide area network consisting of fiber optics & wireless, switches, one AS/400, multiple servers and many PCs running in a Windows environment. The IT Department's duties and responsibilities are to serve Taylor County's computing needs, including: Network and AS/400 Support, Maintenance and Security, Software Support and Development., Equipment Installation, Internet and E-mail access, One-on-One Assistance, End-User Training, On-Site Service/Repair, 7/24 Hour Support for the Sheriff's Department, Needs Assessment and Budget Planning.

LAND CONSERVATION

Steve Oberle

The Land Conservation Department (LCD) works with Taylor County citizens and local, state, and federal agencies and organizations to provide information, technical assistance, and financial aid for the conservation and protection of natural resources throughout the county. The LCD is responsible for administering the natural resource conservation and protection programs and policies of the Land Conservation Committee. In cooperation with citizens and technical advisory committees, the LCD has developed a Land and Water Resource Management Plan for Taylor County. Programs and services provided by the LCD include Nutrient Management Planning, the Farmland Preservation Program, soil testing, tree sales, invasive species information, and a drinking water education and testing program. Conservation planning assistance is provided through cooperation with the Natural Resources Conservation Service. Cost-share programs may help with financial assistance for some conservation practices. The LCD oversees the Wildlife Damage Abatement and Claims Program and the County Conservation Aids Program. The LCD also sponsors several awards for citizens who set a good example of wise resource practices and sponsors a variety of environmental education programs for children and adults.

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Scott Perrin

The Medical Examiner is an appointed official by the Taylor County Board of Supervisors. He is responsible for the investigation of unattended or accidental deaths, or those deaths in which there may be an element of criminality; and to conduct such examinations and tests necessary to determine the manner and cause of death. After a preliminary investigation, the Medical Examiner, District Attorney, or Circuit Court Judge can order an inquest with or without jury to determine the manner of death.

REAL PROPERTY LISTER

Betty Blumenstein

This department maintains county tax roll information, processes computerized assessment rolls, tax rolls, and tax bills; reviews tax rates for tax bills; maintains parcel mapping in map books; files reports electronically with DOR; furnishes updates for the County website, assists taxpayers with questions on parcels, provides available parcel mapping, and acts as a coordinator between the assessors, local clerks and treasurers.

RECYCLING / SOLID WASTE

Lawrence Peterson

This office administers the recycling program for municipalities within Taylor County's Responsible Unit. This entails writing grants, administering recycling ordinances, tracking expenses and revenues, maintaining and servicing trailers, and providing recycling information to the public. This office monitors tonnages moved, costs, number of haulers working in the area and overall performance of the solid waste system; conducts Clean Sweeps, medical waste collections, appliance collection and other collection programs as needed.

REGISTER OF DEEDS

Marvel A. Lemke

The voters of Taylor County elect the Register of Deeds for a four-year term. History is recorded in this county office many times each working day. Recorded are dates of births, deaths, marriages, and such vital matters as military discharges and legal changes of name. This office records conveyances of real estate, trusts, mortgages, easements and any form transaction affecting real estate. Legal title to certain real estate is answered largely by ROD records. The abstractors of title acquire a large part of their data with respect to real estate from this office. Web access to real estate records dating April 1995 forward is available by visiting landshark.co.taylor.wi.us. Copies of school transcripts and school census records are also issued by this office.

SHERIFF

Bruce A. Daniels

The Sheriff is the Chief Law Enforcement Officer elected for a four-year term. He is empowered to correct any unlawful situation that may occur. The Sheriff is presumed to be on duty twenty-four hours per day and is responsible for the protection of all citizens. It is the duty of the Sheriff to take charge and custody of the jail and the persons held there, and is responsible for Sheriff's Sales. The Sheriff sees that all areas of the county are properly patrolled, accidents are investigated, and thefts and burglaries are handled promptly and properly. The Sheriff also directs the operation of the E-911 Communications Center, which receives and dispatches calls for all emergency services.

SURVEYOR

Robert Meyer

The County Surveyor files maps such as boundary surveys, right-of-way plats, assessor's plats and certified surveys received from registered land surveyors and assists the public with questions relating to them. He manages the remonumentation and perpetuation of the Public Land Survey System and does surveys of County-owned properties under the direction of the Taylor County Land Information Committee. The County Surveyor is Taylor County's Land Information Officer, which guides the development and maintenance of the Land Information System. Much of this information is available to the public via Taylor County's Geographic Information Web Server at <http://taylorwimapping-online.com/TaylorCoWi/>.

TREASURER

Sarah Holtz

The County Treasurer is elected for a four-year term and receives all monies from all sources belonging to the county and all other monies, which by statute or county ordinances, are directed to be paid to her. By order of the County Board and by approval of the Finance Committee, the Treasurer is authorized to deposit all money in designated depositories and invest county funds not immediately needed. The County Treasurer cosigns, mails, and disburses all county checks for departmental payments and payrolls. The treasurer in each taxing unit makes a preliminary settlement with the County Treasurer and at the same time turns over their tax roll; the County Treasurer then makes final settlement with the state and local treasurers. The County Treasurer is responsible for the tax deed process and consequent sale of tax deed properties. She is in charge of the annual sale along with the Chair of the Land Information Committee. The Treasurer is the designated supervisor of the Real Property Description Department.

VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER VACANT

The duties of the Veterans Service Officer are to assist all veterans and eligible dependents in the application and administration of all available programs from the United States and Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs. This includes appeal action relative to the denial of benefits. The Officer may also make referrals to other agencies to insure that all possible assistance is provided. The Officer serves as secretary to the Veterans Service Commission, receives and completes necessary investigation regarding applications for emergency assistance from the Commission and obtains their decision. The Officer maintains records on county veterans who have registered their discharges with the Register of Deeds Office. Copies of all business conducted within the department are maintained in the veterans file.

ZONING ADMINISTRATOR Lawrence Peterson

The Zoning Administrator provides advisory, educational and enforcement supervision over environmental health problems of the entire county. A basic responsibility is in the area of private waste disposal systems that include inspection and enforcement of violations of the Plumbing Code. The Zoning Office receives information pertaining to seepage disposal, soil information and other related issues. The code enforcement functions result from the department's responsibility for administration of the county's zoning subdivision ordinances, Airport and Shoreland zoning ordinances. The office also assigns addresses for all new developments. The Zoning Administrator also acts as the Brownfield Site Coordinator, which entails working with county-owned sites that are contaminated by chemical pollution and then taking steps to get the sites cleaned up and back on the tax roll by being re-sold to the public. Oversees licensing and operation of Non-Metallic Mining program to license active gravel pits in Taylor County, and serves as ex-officio to the Land Use Advisory Committee for completing the Taylor County Land Use Plan.
